

In Touch is the ASAE & The Center for Association Leadership email publication delivered every other week to approximately 22,000 members across the country. In Touch is a communications vehicle intended to inform the association community of industry news and upcoming ASAE & The Center events.

In Touch provides reach to your target audience of association professionals by offering prime advertising placements that are linked directly to your web site. The national version of In Touch provides two advertising positions or a road block along the left hand column of the newsletter.

A regional ad buy is available to target the lucrative Greater Washington region. Approximately 8,000 ASAE & The Center members in Greater Washington will receive a regional version of In Touch. This area of the publication provides updates on news and events in the Washington, DC association community.
