What members are saying about ASAE

"Joining ASAE is the single most important professional decision I ever made. Membership has brought me professional knowledge, industry information and a network of peers that has never failed to satisfy my need for stimulating ideas, solutions to problems, or professional dialogue." -- Garis F. Distelhorst, CAE, CEO, Marble Institute of America

"My ASAE membership provides me with opportunities to showcase my company's skills sets in a non-sales setting. What better way to expand your brand awareness than by being active in discussions and presentations with association decision-makers." -- David A. Coriale, president, DelCor Technology Solutions Inc.

"You (the Knowledge Center) have provided everything I was looking for and relieved a significant amount of frustration from the process. I was already incredibly impressed with the association, but now I am a member for life. I realize it is my association, and that means everything." -- Laura A. DeCarlo, executive director and president, Career Directors International
